COACHING STAFF

ROGER ROBINSON

Head Coach

Roger Robinson is a football coach whom knowledgeable people refer to as a serious student of football. He has been since his high school playing days at Union-Endicott High School and Syracuse University. He has spoken to many school and civic groups and has participated in a number of football clinics for high school players and coaches.

During the spring semester last year, Robinson took a sabbatical leave from his teaching and coaching duties at Cortland to undertake a research study of football head and neck injuries in eastern colleges. He was aided in his study by a grant from the NCAA. As a supplement to the project, the Cortland coach will follow up his study with a five year continuing tabulation of head and neck injuries at football playing schools in the Eastern College Athletic Conference.

Robinson has profited by a variety of coaching experiences which began in 1948 when he was hired as a line coach at Lebanon Valley under Andy Kerr. From 1951 to 1956, he coached at Port Jervis High School and then moved to Harvard University where he was backfield coach for six years. He came to Cortland in 1963 as head coach of football. In ten years, Robinson-coached teams at Cortland have recorded 54 wins and 31 losses for a .635 winning percentage.

Robinson is an associate professor of physical education and also serves as an assistant coach in track.

ASSISTANT COACHES

JERRY CASCIANI

Ends and Linebackers

A member of the Cortland faculty since 1970, Jerry Casciani is an assistant professor in the Men's Physical Education Department. He was head wrestling coach in 1971-72 while Vince Gonino was on sabbatical leave and now coaches JV wrestlers. As an assistant coach in football, he will work with defensive ends and linebackers.

He played college football at Springfield where he earned a B.S. degree in physical education. He has a master's degree from Penn State and has coached football and wrestling at the high school and junior college level. He also has coaching experience in lacrosse. Before coming to Cortland, Casciani was district chairman of health and physical education of the Northeastern School District of York County, Pa.

TOM JACKSON

Offensive Line

Joining the Cortland coaching staff in September is Tom Jackson, a 1970 graduate of Penn State where he played for Coach Joe Paterno on three Nittany Lion bowl teams. He was a starting lineman. He comes to Cortland from Watchung Hills Regional High School in Warren, N.J., where he was a member of the physical education faculty. He was an assistant coach in football and worked with the offensive line and defensive linebackers. He also coached junior varsity baseball. Jackson has been doing graduate work at Montclair State and Seton Hall.

LARRY MARTIN

J.V. COACH

A Cortland native, Larry Martin graduated from local schools and earned B.S. and M.S. degrees at the College at Cortland. He played college football as a starting end under former Coach Chugger Davis. Martin continued his graduate studies with the aid of an NDEA Doctoral Fellowship and was awarded a doctor of physical education degree by Springfield College. While at Springfield, he served as an assistant to the football coaching staff.

Martin is an associate professor of physical education at Cortland and has served as head golf coach. Before joining the Cortland staff, Martin was director of athletics and head coach of football, basketball and baseball at Canton High School from 1959 to 1963. Previously, he was head coach of basketball and baseball at Massena High School and assisted in football. His first coaching position was at Gouverneur High School.

JOHN SCIERA

Head Trainer

The "ready room" for Red Dragon athletes is where John Sciera operates. He is head trainer for all of the 14 intercollegiate sports at Cortland in addition to his teaching duties as associate professor of physical education. He also is special adviser for students interested in pre-physical therapy programs.

A native of Buffalo, Sciera is an alumnus of Cortland and earned a master's degree at SUNY Buffalo. Before coming to Cortland in 1965, he was a member of the faculty for seven years at Buffalo where he also served as athletic trainer and physical therapist. He is a member of the American Registry of Physical Therapists and the National Athletic Trainers Association.

TOM STEELE

Defensive Backfield

An alumnus of Hiram College in Hiram, Ohio, Tom Steele was a two-way starter at half-back as an undergraduate. He received a B.A. degree in physical education at Hiram and earned a master's degree at Kent State University. He has a Ph.D. in physical education from The Ohio State University.

While doing graduate work at O.S.U., Steele coached offensive backs on the freshman football team and later moved up to the varsity to work with wide receivers and to do scouting. Previously, he served as an instructor at Adrian College in Michigan and was a biology teacher at East Liverpool High School in Ohio where he also coached football.

At Cortland Steele is an assistant professor of physical education as well as an assistant coach in football. He is in his third year with the Red Dragons.

DICK WHEATON

Defensive Coordinator

A native of Andover, N.Y., Dick Wheaton is a graduate of the SUNY College at Brockport and has a master's degree from Ithaca College. He came to Cortland in 1971 after spending a highly successful seven years as football coach at Owego Free Academy. His Owego teams compiled a 43-14-1 record which included five high school league championships.

Wheaton is a U.S. Marine Corps veteran and played three years of service football. He was a linebacker and fullback during playing days in the Marines and at Brockport. Now in his third season at Cortland, Wheaton holds the academic rank of assistant professor of physical education.

RED DRAGON OUTLOOK

A 6-3-0 football season in 1972 was a happy surprise for Cortland State Coach Roger Robinson, especially coming after the first losing season he suffered since heading the Red Dragons in 1963. The 1971 Dragons finished with a 4-5 mark. The 1972 season was almost a great one, considering that two of Cortland's three losses were extremely close games and could have gone to the Red 'n White with a break or two. These games were the 5-0 loss to Indiana State (Pa.) and a 29-27 heartbreaker to Alfred.

The only change in Cortland's schedule, is that East Stroudsburg is added in place of Edinboro. Five of the nine games will be at home.

In terms of manpower, Coach Robinson was happy to note that he had 170 players listed for '73 tryouts, one of the biggest turnouts ever at Cortland. Robinson was confident enough to list close to 80 of these on his pre-season roster, including 26 freshmen. "It's the best looking group of newcomers we've seen in five years," Robinson has commented. He always carries as many as he can and will assign those who don't make the varsity to a J.V. club which has its own tough five-game schedule plus a scrimmage with Syracuse. Larry Martin will again head the J.V. coaches.

Nineteen lettermen are among the '73 candidates. Twelve of these are returning starters and will form the nucleus of the squad.

The toughest job facing Robinson and his staff will be filling the shoes of tight end Gary Theobald, the team's leading pass receiver the last two years. He led the '72 team in scoring with 7 touchdowns. He was a worthy successor to the great tight ends of other Robinson teams such as Rod Verkey and Earl Rogers. Pre-season speculation indicates that there is no clearcut candidate for the TE spot. Robinson will probably try a number of players, chief of whom will be Mike D'Aloisio of North Bellmore and Gerald Delaney of Hartsdale. Neither has Theobald's size however, usually a criteria for tight end play.

Another question mark will be at quarterback. Last year's starter Mark Hinsch is gone and his replacement, junior Gary Marando of Syracuse, has been bothered by injuries. Marando showed good promise last year, hitting 18 completions in 46 attempts for 223 yards. Robinson likes his QB's to run and Hinsch did that more than Marando. If Marando gets the starting assignment, adequate backup help will need to be identified. Robinson hopes his freshman talent will come through here.

Cortland teams in recent campaigns have stressed a balanced passing and running offense and this year the rushing game should be one of the best in Dragon history. Niagara Falls' Terry Booze, the leading rusher in '72 with a 3.6 average, 452 total yards and 5 touchdowns, will be back for two more campaigns. Other runners returning will be Homer Thornton (3.9) of Katonah, and Ed Zaloom (3.3) of Brooklyn. Tom Blair of Auburn did not play much last season because of injuries but Coach Robinson says he he could be the "best of the bunch." Another power runner expected to contribute is junior transfer Doug Sweeney of Cortland. Sweeney is strong and a good blocker.

Up-front blocking could be a strong point with the '73 squad as four lettermen will be available for steady work. Rick Foederer of Kirkville and Joe Pagano of Seneca Falls will be the offensive tackles. Starting guards probably will be Gary Goldstein of Glen Cove and Ray Soja of Yorkville. The offensive center will be wide open for interested candidates.

To get that good field position all teams like to have, a sound defense is an absolute prerequisite. The current crop of Dragons could really be stingy in giving up yardage both on the ground and in the air. Both starting defensive ends are back, Dan Dupre of Kenmore and Don Young of Rochester. Letterman Steve Tatko of Endicott is a front runner at tackle with Tom Diederich of East Northport slated to have a shot at the other tackle spot. Ken Allen of Port Washington will get a look at middle guard.

Both starting linebackers will be in position for another season, Mike Chazen of Ocean-side and Pete Graham of Corning. They are surefire tacklers and enjoy the contact aspects of the sport. Cornerbacks and safety men will come from such experienced players as Steve Garner of Trumansburg, Kevin Munro of Kenmore, Mick Lowie of Cortland and Jim Savino of Elmira. Battling for playing time in the secondary will be John Almonte of East Syracuse, Jeff Case of Ballston Lake and John Ruminski of Johnson City.

Jeff Sammon of Endwell will do the punting again. He averaged 35.4 per kick last season with his longest going 55 yards. Urgently needed is a field goal kicker to replace the graduated Steve Chumas.

CORTLAND PLAYS ON DAVIS FIELD

CARL CHUGGER DAVIS
1902-1973

When Cortland State's football team opposes Indiana State in a home clash Sept. 22, 1973, it will be the first time that a game will be played on "Davis Field." The College Council at Cortland has renamed the Red Dragons' home gridiron in honor of one of the truly outstanding persons in the history of physical education and athletics at Cortland, Carl A. "Chugger" Davis. The man who coached and taught over a 33-year career at Cortland died May 22 at his retirement home in Sarasota, Fla.

Davis came to Cortland in 1932. He coached football for 28 years, from his first year on campus to 1962. During that period, his coaching record was 105 wins, 67 losses and 17 ties. He had undefeated seasons in 1932, 1933 and 1935. "Chugger" also coached baseball for 20 years, winning 135 and losing 62, and coached basketball for 10 seasons, compiling a record of 86-71.

Davis' reputation as a true analyst of sports was unsurpassed in collegiate ranks. He was one of the first coaches in the East to develop the modern T-formation offense. He is a member of the athletic Hall of Fame at Cortland and his name is attached to the College's most outstanding scholar-athlete award presented each year to a varsity performer.
